

Dear Madam, Dear Sir, Dear Customer,

In early September, you may have heard about Orora's planned acquisition of SaverGlass. This week Orora finalised the acquisition of the business, marking a huge milestone in our history. I am thus pleased to announce that SaverGlass is now formally part of the Orora Group.

As a leading manufacturer and distributor of sustainable, innovative packaging and visual solutions for customers across the world, the addition of SaverGlass to Orora's Australasia and North America operations establishes the group as a truly global company of scale in attractive premium beverage segments.

We are excited about the significant opportunity this presents in creating even greater value for our customers across the world.

Orora's teams have now commenced the process to bring SaverGlass into the Orora group, and the coming months will be dedicated to align our operations in order to form a global glass business unit. This will be led by myself, reporting to Orora CEO Brian Lowe, and will sit alongside Orora's Beverage and OPS businesses. We anticipate the global glass business unit will be effective from 1 July 2024.

We at SaverGlass are excited about this next chapter with the Orora Group. We are confident that Orora is the perfect partner for SaverGlass to continue our development and leadership in the manufacture and decoration of high-end glass bottles for the wine and spirits market. We look forward to working together to further accelerate our growth trajectory.

For now, there are no immediate changes in our service to you. We will provide updates to you as they occur in the coming months.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your ongoing support, and we look forward to continuing our partnership with you. If you have any questions in the meantime, please don't hesitate to contact your usual Sales person.

Best regards,

Jean-Marc Arrambourg,
CEO of SaverGlass
